Report on Viksit Bharat Young Dialouge January,2025

The Viksit Bharat Young Dialogue event, held at the Delhi Mandap, brought together enthusiastic youth and leaders to discuss the vision of a developed India. This unique program witnessed the active participation of two bright NSS volunteers, Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal, from Abhilashi University Himachal Pradesh. The event was graced by the Hon'ble Prime Minister, Mr. Narendra Modi, who inspired and engaged with the young minds in attendance, emphasizing the significance of youth in shaping the future of the nation.

Key Highlights of the Event:

1. NSS Volunteers Ankita dangi and Ashish Kaushal Dialogue:

- Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal, both students of Abhilashi University, took the stage to share their experiences and insights as active NSS volunteers. Their dialogue focused on the important role youth play in the nation's development, especially in the context of community service and rural development.
- Ankita shared her experiences in organizing awareness programs, health camps, and educational workshops in remote areas of Himachal Pradesh, emphasizing how such initiatives contribute to the overall development of the community.
- Ashish Kaushal spoke about his involvement in environmental conservation programs, such as tree planting drives and waste management campaigns, underscoring the need for sustainable development to create a cleaner, greener India.

2. Honorable Prime Minister's Address:

- Prime Minister Narendra Modi delivered an inspiring speech, highlighting the importance of youth as the backbone of a "Viksit Bharat" (Developed India). He praised Ankita and Hemant for their dedication to service and emphasized the role of young people in driving change.
- PM Modi emphasized his vision of an Atmanirbhar Bharat (Self-reliant India), urging youth to embrace innovation, entrepreneurship, and new technologies to solve pressing challenges facing the nation.
- He also spoke about the significance of education, skill development, and nation-building, stressing that youth must contribute to both economic and social progress in their communities.

3. Themes Discussed:

- Youth Empowerment: Both volunteers highlighted the crucial role of youth in nation-building, particularly through social work and activism. They talked about how the younger generation can take charge of India's future by getting involved in grassroots-level development activities.
- Sustainable Development: Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal's initiatives around sustainability were discussed at length. They stressed how youth-led projects related to clean energy, waste management, and environmental conservation are vital to India's long-term development.
- Skill Development and Education: The dialogue also touched upon the importance of practical skills alongside academic learning. Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal emphasized how skills training can equip youth with the necessary tools to succeed in a rapidly evolving world.
- Technology and Innovation: The dialogue included discussions on how youth can leverage digital platforms, technology, and innovation to create solutions for national issues, such as access to healthcare, education, and job opportunities.

4. Contribution of Abhilashi University and Its NSS Volunteers:

- Abhilashi University, through its NSS unit, has consistently encouraged students to engage in volunteerism, which has a direct impact on local communities. Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal participation in the dialogue

- highlighted the university's focus on empowering its students to make tangible contributions to the society around them.
- The volunteers' work in Himachal Pradesh, particularly in rural areas, has set an example of how small-scale local initiatives can contribute to national development goals.

5. Future Vision:

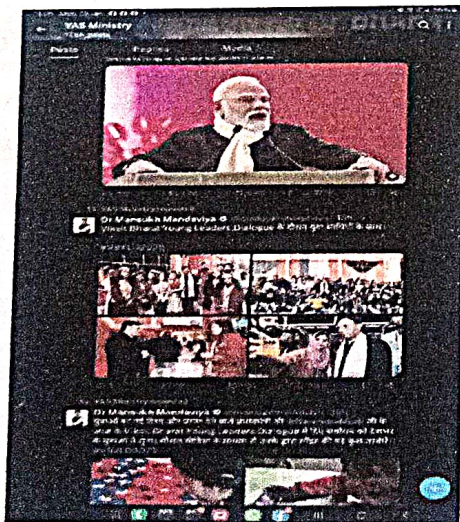

- Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal concluded their dialogue with a forward-looking perspective on how the youth of India can play an integral role in India's transformation into a "Viksit Bharat". They urged their peers to stay committed to social service and continue to innovate in their respective fields for the benefit of the nation.

Conclusion:

The Viksit Bharat Young Dialogue was an inspiring platform for showcasing the efforts of youth in shaping India's future. The contributions of Ankita Dangi and Ashish Kaushal, along with the motivating address by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, underscored the significance of youth-led initiatives in creating a self-reliant, sustainable, and prosperous India. Through such interactions, the importance of community service, education, and innovation was highlighted as essential components in building a Viksit Bharat.
